

Combating Trade Based Money Laundering (TBML)

nTrac, our advanced TBML risk and compliance solution, incorporates sophisticated risk scoring engines and comprehensive monitoring capabilities to identify red flags effectively. Utilizing automated algorithms, it detects potential irregularities within trade finance transactions, such as unusual payment structures or discrepancies in documentation, in real-time. Customizable risk scoring engines assign scores based on predefined criteria, enabling the identification of high-risk transactions for further investigation. Through pattern recognition and anomaly detection techniques, nTrac identifies deviations from typical transaction patterns, prompting alerts for timely intervention. With dynamic monitoring and comprehensive reporting features, nTrac enables financial institutions to confidently navigate the complexities of trade finance, ensuring robust compliance and risk mitigation at every stage
